Library Automation and e-Resources for NAAC Accreditation: Humanities and Journalism Focus

The library at [School Name] has been fully automated using an Integrated Library Management System (ILMS) to streamline operations and enhance user experience. The ILMS integrates various aspects of library management such as cataloging, circulation, acquisition, and digital resource management into a unified system. This automation ensures that students and faculty have easy access to library resources, reduces manual errors, and significantly improves the efficiency of library operations. The ILMS enables seamless tracking of books, journals, and other materials, allowing for real-time updates on availability and status.

The library also provides access to an extensive collection of e-resources to support the academic needs of students and faculty, particularly in the fields of Humanities and Journalism. The digital resources include e-books, online journals, databases, and multimedia content, facilitating research and enhancing the learning experience. These resources are accessible both on-campus and remotely, ensuring that students and staff can access the materials they need at their convenience. Special emphasis is placed on subscriptions to reputed journals, periodicals, and databases relevant to the fields of Humanities, Social Sciences, and Journalism, ensuring that the academic community has access to up-to-date and comprehensive information.

Additionally, the library's invoicing system is integrated within the ILMS, providing detailed records of purchases and subscriptions, ensuring transparency and efficient management of resources. The system also helps in tracking budget allocation for the acquisition of new materials, enhancing accountability and planning.

By incorporating state-of-the-art technology in library management and offering a robust collection of e-resources, the library at [School Name] supports the academic and research endeavors of the Humanities and Journalism departments, contributing significantly to the overall educational experience of its students.

SIS (Student Information System)

Student information systems (SIS) store and track all student information, including grades, attendance records, and more. The software functions as a digital drop box for school-related information. SIS software has become a vital tool for both educational institutions as well as parents and students, who use it to gain access to student information, make payments, and communicate with school functionaries.

SIS are used by teachers, students, and parents to access all relevant information pertaining to a student's schooling. SIS software is leveraged for a few different functions; the main two being as a channel of communication and as a place to store student information.

SIS Benefits / Features:

There are a variety of benefits associated with our student information systems for parents and students as well as educational institutions and their staff. We provide channels for communication between school officials and students, act as a singular source of student-related information, streamline billing processes, and more. Some key features of our SIS are...

Information management — This is the primary feature of the our software; an SIS houses everything from medical records to addresses.

Reporting — This feature allows users to manipulate the information housed in the solution and generate reports.

Admissions management — This feature manages the entire admissions process in your SIS, from application to tours to acceptance and tuition payment.

Billing and payment — We provide student billing functionality through the application as well as allow them to pay their bills via the system.

Student information management — With our SIS, teachers and administrators can manage all student-related information, including medical history, emergency contacts, attendance, and grades.

Student portal — Students use the portals to track their own performance, including attendance and grades. The portal also acts as an open channel of communication, which students can use to communicate with their teachers.

Parent portal — Our SIS includes parent portals, which parents can use to track their kids progress, attendance, and behaviour. Parents can also use the portal to maintain communication with the administration as well as with their children's teachers.

Registration and scheduling — Our SIS has course registration and scheduling features built in, so students can sign up for courses via the application.

Gradebooks— Teachers can keep a comprehensive gradebook for all their students and manage all grade-related activity.

Easy scheduling of examinations — Scheduling of examination dates can be easily handled by our SIS. It correlates all details such as availability of teachers and completion of book syllabus fixed for the term before announcing the examination dates. Details about records of all written examinations, appraisals on the papers, marks or grades offered, and educational headway made by the students can be recorded for easy retrieval.

LMS (Learning Management System)

Online Course Material : Learning management systems (LMSs) are platforms designed to help instructors manage educational coursework online. They provide educators with a single platform for making course material accessible online, including lesson content, assignments, and assessments. LMSs are used to help streamline the delivery of online learning for educational institutions, allowing for a more connected and accessible educational experience for students.

An LMS enables instructors to build digital courses that include various types of content, such as syllabi, lectures, multimedia files, and readings, as well as distribute assignments to students.

Online assessment functionality, such as quizzes and tests. Communication features enable instructors to communicate with students and parents via direct messages, mobile notifications, and discussion forums.

Some key features of LMS:

- Provide a platform for educators to deliver online course content to students.
- Distribute assignments to students and allow instructors to grade student work.
- Administer digital assessments to students.
- Facilitate individualized feedback on student work, such as through written comments or grading rubrics.

Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) for Shodhganga/Shodhgangotri

(A Repository of Theses and Dissertations submitted to the Universities in India)

This Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) is made and entered into on 22 (Day) 11 (Month) 2022 (Year) between the INFLIBNET Centre, an IUC of University Grants Commission located at Gandhinagar, hereinafter referred to as "INFLIBNET" and Bareilly International University, Bareilly (University / Deemed University / Inter-University Centre), here in after referred to as the 'University'.

WHEREAS, INFLIBNET Centre, an Inter-university Centre of the University Grants Commission, as its mandate, promotes open access to scholarly content generated in universities. The Centre has computers, network, software infrastructure and technical know-how required for hosting electronic versions of theses and dissertations in open access with interface to search, retrieve and access these content.

WHEREAS Bareilly International University, Bareilly (University / Deemed University / Inter University Centre) has agreed to take part in the process of digitisation of old theses and dissertations (not available in computerized machine-readable format) and building-up of digital repository and to promote, share and host its ETD in 'Shodhganga: A reservoir of Indian theses submitted to the Universities in India' and other universities in open access. 'Shodhganga' is a name coined by INFLIBNET Centre for refering to the respository of Indian Electronic Theses and Dissertations. The word "Shodh" originates from Sanskrit and stands for research and discovery. The 'Ganga' is the holiest, longest and largest river in Indian subcontinent which has held heart of its people captive and drawn millions of people to its banks since the dawn of history. The Ganga is the symbol of India's age-long culture and civilization, ever changing, ever flowing, ever loved and revered by its people. "Shodhganga", a repository of theses and dissertations submitted to Indian universities, is expected to keep growing to a formidable size as more and more researchers from India submit their research works to this ever growing reservoir. Under the initiative called "ShodhGangotri", research scholars / research supervisors in universities are requested to deposit electronic version of approved synopsis submitted by research scholars to the universities for registering themselves for the Ph.D programme.

This Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) defines responsibilities, liabilities and commitments of the institutions involved to ensure proper system implementation, to meet the objectives pertaining to submission and access to Electronic Theses and Dissertations as envisaged by the UGC vide its Notification (Minimum Standards & Procedure for Award of M.Phil/Ph.D Degree), Regulation, 2009 dated 1st June, 2009 / amendment made on 5th May 2016.

Library Enrichment for Traditional Systems of Medicine – NAAC Report

Total Collection of Books and Reference Volumes:

The library is well-equipped with a comprehensive collection of books and reference volumes, specifically focusing on traditional systems of medicine, particularly Ayurveda, Unani, Siddha, and Yoga, as well as other ancient healing practices. The collection includes a substantial number of both contemporary and ancient texts that provide valuable knowledge for research and education in these fields.

- Total Number of Books & Reference Volumes: The library houses over 3,000 titles, with around 1,500 reference volumes related to traditional medicine, ancient texts, and other relevant academic resources.
- Details of Titles and Volumes: The library's collection spans across various disciplines such as Traditional Indian Medicine, Ayurveda, Yoga, Pharmacology, Botany, and Siddha, along with related interdisciplinary subjects. This includes rare manuscripts, historical texts, and modern scholarly editions.

Ancient Books and Manuscripts:

The library holds a rich collection of ancient books and manuscripts, most of which are original or rare reprints of manuscripts that have been preserved from historical archives. These manuscripts provide an invaluable insight into the ancient knowledge systems of medicine and healing. These collections include:

- Digitalized Traditional Manuscripts: Efforts have been made to digitize traditional manuscripts, ensuring preservation and wider accessibility. The digital archives consist of over 200 manuscripts in Sanskrit, Tamil, Arabic, and Persian, which document detailed descriptions of medical practices, treatments, and herbs used in traditional medicine.
- Discipline-Specific Learning Resources from Ancient Indian Languages: The library also has a vast collection of learning resources in ancient Indian languages, including Sanskrit, Tamil, and others, that are integral to the study of traditional medicinal systems. The resources include commentaries, treatises, and scientific documentation from renowned ancient scholars like Charaka, Sushruta, and Vagbhata.

Print Journals and Thesis Collection:

The library subscribes to over 50 print journals focused on various aspects of traditional medicine, healing systems, and complementary medical sciences. These journals cover the latest research, case studies, and clinical trials related to Ayurveda, Siddha, Unani, and other related fields.

- Thesis and Project Reports: The library maintains an extensive collection of postgraduate and doctoral theses, dissertations, and project reports that are focused on traditional systems of medicine. More than 200 theses are available, many of which provide valuable original research and case studies in the field.

Library Committee and Management:

- Library Committee and MOM: The library is governed by an active Library Committee, which meets periodically to discuss and implement strategies for library development, procurement of new resources, and ensuring the maintenance of existing collections. The Minutes of Meetings (MOM) are documented and reviewed regularly to ensure the library's continued growth and relevance.
- Library Budget and Utilization: The library is allocated a significant portion of the institutional budget to maintain and enhance the collection. The current annual budget for the library is approximately INR 5 Lakhs, which is utilized for acquiring new books, journals, digital resources, and maintaining archives. The budget is also used to fund the digitization of manuscripts and texts.

Library Audit Mechanism:

- Audit Mechanism: A comprehensive library audit mechanism is in place, which ensures transparency and accountability in the management of library resources. The library undergoes an internal audit annually, with specific emphasis on the efficient utilization of funds, acquisition of materials, and overall resource management.
- Audit Observations and Action Taken Report: The library's annual audit consistently results in recommendations for further enriching the collection, improving the digital archive system, and enhancing user experience. The library has successfully acted upon all audit observations in a timely manner, ensuring that any gaps identified are addressed promptly. These actions include the acquisition of rare texts, upgradation of software for digitalization, and increased allocation for special collections in the field of traditional medicine.

Special Knowledge Resources for Library Enrichment:

The library has made a significant effort to enrich its collection with rare, unique, and discipline-specific resources that support research in traditional systems of medicine. These resources include:

- Special Reports and Research Papers: The library regularly acquires research papers, government reports, and monographs related to the traditional systems of medicine. These reports are essential in understanding the current status of traditional healing systems and their integration with modern healthcare practices.
- Unique Cultural Texts: In alignment with the university's commitment to the Humanities and Journalism departments, the library also features a collection of cultural texts that help contextualize traditional medical practices within the broader framework of historical, cultural, and journalistic studies. These texts contribute to an in-depth understanding of how traditional healing systems have been documented, critiqued, and disseminated throughout history.

Conclusion:

The library serves as an invaluable resource for students, faculty, and researchers interested in traditional systems of medicine, especially from the perspectives of the humanities and journalism. It is a well-structured repository of rare ancient texts, digitalized manuscripts, scholarly journals, and discipline-specific learning resources that contribute immensely to the academic excellence of the institution. The library's active and evolving collection continues to support interdisciplinary research in the field, fostering the preservation and dissemination of traditional knowledge systems and their integration with modern medical practices.

Maintenance of Physical and Academic Support Facilities for Humanities and Journalism

The institution has well-established systems and processes in place to ensure the upkeep and optimal functioning of its physical and academic support facilities, including laboratories, libraries, sports facilities, classrooms, computers, and equipment, with particular emphasis on disciplines like Humanities and Journalism.

1. Maintenance Policy: Preventive and Break-Down Policies

The maintenance policy integrates both preventive and break-down maintenance strategies to minimize downtime and ensure continuous support for the academic environment. Preventive maintenance involves regular checks and servicing of equipment and facilities, while break-down maintenance addresses unforeseen failures promptly. Both policies are tailored to meet the specific needs of the Humanities and Journalism departments, ensuring the availability of essential resources for research, practical work, and student activities.

2. Maintenance of Laboratories, Library, Classrooms, Computers, Equipment, and Sports Facilities

Specialized facilities such as Humanities research labs, media labs for Journalism students, multimedia classrooms, and dedicated computer resources for digital storytelling and content creation are regularly maintained. These areas require both technical and academic support to function optimally. Regular checks are conducted to ensure that hardware and software are up to date, and that classrooms and libraries are conducive to learning with appropriate seating, lighting, and resources. Sports facilities are equally maintained to offer students a balanced academic and physical experience.

3. Procedure for Raising Maintenance Issues

A clear procedure exists for students, faculty, and staff to report any maintenance-related issues. This procedure includes a simple, user-friendly online portal where issues such as equipment malfunctions, facility disruptions, or safety concerns can be logged. Faculty members in the Humanities and Journalism departments, who often require specialized equipment for research and project work, have direct communication channels to the technical support team.

4. Issue Management and Resolution Process

Once an issue is reported, it is categorized according to its urgency—whether it pertains to essential academic resources like computers and library services, or to non-academic facilities like sports or hostel maintenance. The resolution process follows a strict timeline, with high-priority issues such as broken equipment or classroom disruptions being addressed within 24 hours. For issues requiring more detailed repairs or replacements, such as malfunctioning lab equipment, the timeline may extend, but constant updates are provided.

5. Maintenance Record

A comprehensive record of all maintenance activities is meticulously maintained, ensuring transparency and accountability. This record includes details such as issue reports, timelines for resolution, work orders, and feedback from users. These records are regularly reviewed by the administration to identify trends, address recurring issues, and ensure that resources are adequately allocated to maintain facilities that support the dynamic needs of the Humanities and Journalism departments.

This proactive maintenance framework ensures that the institution provides a robust and uninterrupted learning environment, fostering academic excellence for students in both Humanities and Journalism.
